

Fairview Ridges Nurses are Stronger Together

November 8, 2018

Emergency Room Visit (simple fracture and follow up care)

When nurses form a union, they have a voice in negotiating fair benefits like health insurance. MNA nurses at Southdale and Riverside have health insurance packages with better benefits than the Fairview corporate plan, because they collectively negotiated those rates and coverage into their contracts. What if you had a voice over your health insurance? What would you like your health insurance plan to look like? Compare your current health insurance with the insurance that MNA nurses at Southdale and Riverside have negotiated over the years in the table below.

What your health insurance looks like depends on what Ridges nurses negotiate with the employer – the table below is just an example of how when nurses unionize, they gain more power in their workplace. If Ridges nurses get to negotiate together as a union, they will have more power to improve their working conditions and benefits, just like Southdale and Riverside nurses do as equals with management.
